G. Guidance Notes

The purpose of the Legal Aid - Custody Issues Scheme is to provide, in certain types of litigation*, legal representation for persons who need it but cannot afford it. A person wishing to seek a "recommendation" from the Court for the Scheme to apply must make an application at the commencement of the proceedings to the Court. The applicant must, inter-alia, satisfy the Court that he / she is not financially in a position to retain a solicitor (or, where appropriate, counsel) and must provide such information about his / her financial means as the Court deems appropriate. It is the intention of the Legal Aid Board that the information provided in this document will assist the Court in considering the applicant's financial means and to decide accordingly on whether: (a) to seek further information, (b) to make a recommendation in favour of the Scheme being applied, or (c) to refuse to make a recommendation in favour of the Scheme being applied.

The information in this Form provided to the Court must be accurate and it should be noted that the policy of the Legal Aid Board is that claims for payments under the Scheme will not be considered nor processed where it transpires that false, misleading or substantially incomplete information has been submitted by the applicant in respect of their financial means. In such circumstances, the applicant will be deemed to be financially responsible for their own legal fees.

* Further information on the Scheme's provisions (including eligibility requirements) is available at www.legalaidboard.ie.
